

2013 Camelid Conference

sponsored by

Tennessee Alpaca Association (TAA) and

University of Tennessee College of Veterinary Medicine, Department of Large Animal Clinical Sciences

Saturday, June 15, 2013, from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM

UT College of Veterinary Medicine, Knoxville, TN

Make plans to join us for this informative seminar! Alpaca and llama owners and their veterinarians will learn about specific health concerns of camelids and the latest research at UT. Veterinarians will earn Continuing Education Credits (CEUs). We'll also get the grand tour of the newly renovated large animal veterinary hospital and new facilities!

Dr David Anderson and Dr Sarel Van Amstell are putting finishing touches on the speaker lineup, which promises to be the best ever!

Directions: Take I-40 to Knoxville. Exit on Alcoa Highway (Hwy 129) South. Take the Neyland Drive exit, and turn left at the light at the bottom of the ramp, then left onto Joe Johnson Dr. Look for signs to the lecture room, Hollingsworth Auditorium.

The day will also include a silent-auction fundraiser for the UT llama and alpaca research program. Please bring an item to donate for the auction and/or solicit an item from a local business that might be of interest to llama and alpaca owners and veterinarians.

Registration deadline is Monday, June 10 – email hickorybluffalpacas@comcast.net with your registration info if you plan to pay at the door. We need a headcount for food and handouts. Be sure to invite your veterinarian!
